Celebrating Our History

In the winter of 1970, in New York City, 24 Black women began meeting in their homes with the purpose of advocating on behalf of women of color, implementing the socio-economic & political strategies that began in the 1960's. As a result of their meetings, the National Coalition of 100 Black women (NCBW) was launched in 1981 with representatives in 14 states. Just five years later, the Bergen/Passaic Chapter was chartered in New Jersey by Mary Ann Miller with 30 members.

The national movement by NCBW has garnered thousands of members throughout 60 chapters in 28 states, and the Bergen/Passaic Chapter thrives as one of its stalwart signature chapters. We are leading the way and forging partnerships with other organizations on important issues such as: Voter Registration Drives in collaboration with the League of Women Voters; hosting the Bergen County Black Issues Conference (BIC); hosting AIDS awareness conferences; and, was the only women's organization to be awarded the New Jersey Department of Human Services Community Challenge Grant.

NOW MORE THAN EVER, we stand together to advocate for the rights of women, children, immigrants, and all whose rights are violated locally, nationally and globally. We position ourselves to speak out on issues that impact racial, gender and social inequity. We look forward to your partnership and friendship as we continue to reinforce ties that cannot be broken by inequity, and we strive to strengthen our impact within the Bergen/Passaic community where we lift as we climb.
